OVERVIEW

Leadership, Assessment & Organizational Development

For more than 25 years, I have designed and delivered customized learning and development experiences across government, banking, energy, healthcare, telecommunications, and private-sector organizations throughout the Middle East. My work combines evidence-based assessment, structured facilitation, and practical challenge — ensuring that learning translates into stronger decisions and better performance.

I train more than 1,000 individuals per year and coach more than 100 leaders annually, working across every level — from supervisors finding their footing to senior executives navigating organizational complexity.

I do not believe learning happens through information alone. The most valuable learning experiences create moments of reconsideration — where something previously accepted is examined more carefully, and something new becomes possible as a result.

AREAS OF PRACTICE

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Designing and delivering leadership programs at every level — from first-time managers to senior executives navigating strategic complexity.

HOGAN ASSESSMENT

As a certified Hogan assessor, providing executive assessment, interpretation, certification support, and assessment-based development planning.

ORGANIZATIONAL EFFECTIVENESS

Supporting organizations in strengthening talent systems, decision quality, and the leadership conditions that determine long-term performance.

SIGNATURE PROGRAMS

Programs built from original ideas — not adapted from someone else's framework.

These workshops draw directly from the body of ideas I have spent years developing. Each one can be delivered as a standalone session, a multi-day program, or integrated into a broader leadership development curriculum.

CONDITIONS BEFORE CONVICTION

Conditions Before Conviction

A workshop exploring how commitment, confidence, and action emerge from conditions rather than intention alone. Challenges the assumption that leaders must feel certain before they act — and examines what conditions actually need to be in place for commitment to be genuine and durable. Relevant for executive teams, leadership development programs, and strategic decision-making conversations.

CONTEXT BEFORE EXPLANATION

Context Before Explanation

How organizations routinely explain behavior through the person before examining the conditions that made the behavior reasonable — and the practical cost of that habit for development, assessment, and leadership decisions. A structured examination of what changes when we ask better questions first.

DECISION INTEGRITY

Leadership Decisions Under Uncertainty

Improving decision quality when information is incomplete and pressure is high. A practical program for leaders who want to think more carefully before committing — and build organizations that create the conditions for better decisions at every level.

HOGAN ASSESSMENT

Understanding Leadership Risk

Using Hogan insights to identify strengths, development risks, and the conditions most likely to derail leadership effectiveness. Goes well beyond personality scores into meaningful organizational and individual application. Suitable for HR teams, coaches, and leadership development practitioners.

HOGAN ASSESSMENT EXPERTISE

One of the most specialized assessment capabilities in the region.

As a certified Hogan assessor, I provide executive assessment, team assessment, certification support, and development planning grounded in one of the most rigorously validated personality assessment systems available. My approach treats scores as a starting point for conversation — not a verdict about a person.
